

Micropelt MVA-Series

Valve adapter list

Self-powered MVA actuators are equipped by default with knurled connection nut M30 x 1.5. For valves with a thread size of M30 x 1.5 no adapters are needed.

A close mechanical contact between the valve, adapter and actuator is required for energy harvesting, i.e., for generating energy from the difference in temperature between the heating flow and the room air.

Various online shops offer adapters of substandard quality, which do not establish a good mechanical and required thermal connection. Therefore, use only Micropelt qualified adapters.

The following adapters are available, please get in touch.
